NEW BOOK

The SRT is pleased to announce a new book on an interesting and unusual topic.

The Free French in London 1940 – 1945

A review of the postal history of the Free French & other associated London based organisations.

By Peter A. Baker

Based on the Author's extensive research this work explores a fascinating but little known aspect of WWII.

A4 softback, 64 pages, copiously illustrated in colour.

It covers censor marks, cachets resealing tapes or labels and postmarks, relating to the Free French Army, Navy, Air Force, and the Courier Service. Liberation and National Committees, and under cover addresses. Highly recommended to all who are interested in WWII, or censorship or British or French Postal History.

Available from the Stuart Rossiter Trust, for £9.50
plus P+P

Seminar on Writing and Publishing on Postal History Topics

Unfortunately due to technical issues we have had to postpone the seminar for the time being. We will let you know when these have been resolved and we have a firm date. ☺
