With sadness we report the death of William Kaczynski on 25th March 2019

William came to England from Berlin in 1939 as a refugee from Nazi Germany with his parents Martin and Edith and his younger brother Edward. They were sent to the Rushen Camp in the Isle of Man and spent ten months from May 1941 as enemy aliens pending enquires to sort out the real refugees.

He was the joint author, with Professor Charmian Brinson, of Fleeing from the Führer History told through postal history, available from www.rossitertrust.com
