

CRISES IN THE CAYMAN ISLANDS
POST OFFICE

(UNDER THE BRITISH COLONIAL SYSTEM 1889 – 1939)

GRAHAM BOOTH FRPSL

From his research in the local archives of the Cayman Islands and Jamaica, the author takes a look at how local, regional and colonial politics conspire to make the setting-up and running of a post office on a small group of islands a frustrating and time-consuming endeavour. The author paints a picture which may have resonance with the challenges faced by other smaller colonies of the time. Add in the demands of stamp dealers and collectors, we get a picture of how challenging the bureaucratic British colonial system could be in the early 20th Century.

260 pages, A4, hardback

Price £30 plus p+p

Order from www.rossitertrust.com